

As young people living in Europe, we have hopes and dreams for the future of the next generation. As a group, the pictures down below captures our vision for the future of Europe. We decided to create images that depict the life of people from the moment they were born until they retire. Every picture describes the ideal life of people residing in Europe and their journey into adulthood. The pictures range in topics including equality, physical health, mental health, accessibility, youth participation and engagement, climate action, employment, and retirement.
